DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Lin (2003/0211413). Lin teaches an imaging member with the same construction of the claimed imaging member (claim 24). It is inherent that the imaging member would possess an arbitrary property of collection efficiency proportional to an electric field. In the alternative, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use any art recognized component of the imaging member such as charge transport component, binders, hole transport components, and electron transport components known for their intended use in similar imaging members with the expectation of similar results because of the direct teachings of Lin.

4. Claims 1-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lin (2003/0211413) as applied to claims 1-40 above, and further in view of Spiewak (5,336,577). Lin is discussed above. Spiewak teaches imaging member where a charge transport component is comprised of a mixture of a hole transport and electron transport components (claims and examples). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the direct suggestion of Spiewak (col. 5-6 including the table) to use specific ratios of the desired components including a photogenerating compound (col. 8) to produce an improved imaging member with the expectation of similar results (col. 3-4). Also, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate these components in to the imaging member of Lin because of the direct suggestion of Lin's imaging member construction and location of similar charge transport component, binders, hole transport components, and electron transport components known for their intended use in similar imaging members with the expectation of similar results.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
